

Svitlana Shmyhol

Frontend Developer / Product Designer

As a front-end developer and former web designer, my aim is to craft highly functional, visually excellent, and inherently useful websites and applications.

Relevant Experience

Frontend Developer / Product Designer · HackenProof 2021 — 2023

I started by supporting the design and layout of the original website. Subsequently, I took on the task of redesign the site and creating admin panel and dashboard for clients and users. Additionally, I actively participated in the development process as a front-end developer, ensuring seamless integration of design elements with functionality.

Senior Product Designer · Virgil Security, Inc. 2019 — 2021

Redesigned of the company's main website, along with creating websites for various company products. Additionally, I developed and conceptualized design strategies for startups.

UI/UX Designer · StreamTech Ltd. 2018 — 2019

"Fabulive" is a website and an application designed for sharing video content centered around the beauty industry. During its inception, it represented an innovative concept, emerging as a platform for short-form videos with features enabling likes and donations.

Product Designer · The Solid Studio 2018 — 2018

I contributed to the formation of the design concept and I developed the website and application design of a promising video hosting startup.

UI/UX Designer · EvoPlay 2016 — 2018

- Prototyping and design web, mobile applications
- Creating wireframes, storyboards, style guides, functional documentation
- Prepare sources, guidelines for developers team
- Creating app modules and elements: from sketches to high fidelity mockups
- Redesign existing web applications

UI designer · Global Play Games 2012 — 2015

- Concept development games UI design
- Creating wireframes and prototypes (interactive and static)
